

Marc L. Allard

December 2, 1944 - December 29, 2018

Marc passed away at Poudre Valley Hospital on December 29, 2018 after a long fight with health issues.

He was born in Laramie, WY on December 2, 1944 and attended school in Walden. There he met Jo Geer and were married October 4, 1964. They worked at the North Park Ranch for several years and then moved to Kersey where they ranched, farmed and fed cattle for several years. After the ranch was sold, they moved to Severance and did more farming and cattle feeding. When this farm was sold, they moved to Wellington and started a tree moving business, transplanting large trees.

Marc never met a stranger and was a good friend to all he knew.

He is survived by his wife, Jo; daughter, Diane and Shawna Ward of Pueblo; son, David and Deb Allard of Fort Collins and many step grandchildren and great grandchildren. Also, a brother, Lee and 3 nephews, and their families.

Per Marc's request there will be no services.

In lieu of flowers donations can be made to the North Park Museum or Wellington Library in care of Bohlender Funeral Chapel, 121 Olive St., Fort Collins, Colorado 80524. Friends may send condolences to the family at bohlenderfuneralchapel.com.

“ I always enjoyed the times I visited with Marc and the stories shared, the advise given and the laughs. Although I never spent as much time with him as I wanted, I liked Marc a lot and will miss him.
