

Russana A. Youngblood-Evans

July 6, 1969 - August 3, 2020

Russana A. Youngblood-Evans passed peacefully at home, August 3, 2020. She was preceded in death by her husband Roger A. Evans. Russana is survived by her mother Londa J. Youngblood of Live Oak, Florida. She is also survived by aunts, uncles, numerous cousins and friends.

Russana was born in Pueblo and resided in Fort Collins since college. She attended Colorado State University where she earned a Bachelor and Master's degree in Anthropology. She did her Master's research study in India where she met Mother Teresa.

She requested no services upon her death.

Those who wish may donate to cat rescue: Animal Friends Alliance, 2321 E. Mulberry Street, Suite 1, Fort Collins, CO. 80524 or a charity of your choice.

Comments

“ I just found out yesterday, words cannot describe how I feel, What a lose I wish I could have been there for her. Love her every much, have always missed the friendship we had. She will always live in my heart, Sanna God bless your soul.

Barb Huston - November 02, 2020 at 08:31 PM

“ I was just made aware of Russana's passing.....I am totally beside myself. She was my best friend in high school and we lost contact after she left for college. After years of searching for her we just got back in touch the beginning of this year.. and now she's gone. My deepest condolences to her family and friends. She was an amazing person who made my high school years the absolute best, just like she made everyone's lives that she touched.

De Potestio - October 23, 2020 at 10:16 AM

“ I frist want to say how terribly sorry I am to hear of Russana's passing. I sat at my work desk crying. And with any death a flood of memories of her. High school with her was never predictable. Cruising Main with her she would open my sunroof pop out and be waving her arms wildly in the air while some 80s hair band was blasting away. I do remember at my graduation party she randomly pierced some guy's ear. I have the photo to prove it. But after high school as D said we are kind of went our separate ways. But we always have that bond. She too reached out to me and we started to reminisce and talk again at the beginning of this crazy year. I loved her free spirit I loved her just for who she was. Going to miss her terribly . Rest in peace my sweet friend Rusanna.

Terri Tristano - October 24, 2020 at 01:37 PM

“ Little Edsel, Your journey is done. I am praying that you are at peace. The Edsel is back in my garage, waiting for the next trip. You are loved more than you knew. Sorry this was not expressed more often. Miss you forever, Big Edsel.

Aunt Donna - November 09, 2020 at 01:56 PM