“ Aaron and I met under difficult conditions. He was always gracious, and calm even when in severe pain. He had a big heart, loved John Wayne, old time westerns, motorcycles, antiques, his family, friends, and God. I'm grateful to have met him, he was a special gentleman. Thanks for allowing me the privilege of being there, I'll always remember you, Brother!

“ I didn't know Aaron for a long time, only about 4 years. He was ALWAYS kind and respectful and made me feel welcome and comfortable in his home Mike and I would visit. His positive attitude and generous nature could bring a smile to my face even on the worst of days. He had a way of making a bad day, better. He loved his family and friends and would give the shirt off his back if you needed it. He was a genuinely good man. He will be missed immensely by family and friends. It may sound crazy, but he's sent undeniable signs to Mike and I that he's watching over us. Enjoy your new wings, Aaron, we love you!!

Ok. Aaron was relatively a new friendship for about 2 years. He loved God and the people he cared about were always treated with respect. We got to talk about God's word and the promise of eternal life. In my mind his beliefs were the measure of the man. I'm sharing something we spoke of from time to time. 1 Thess 4:13
13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. 14 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him. 15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep. 16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: 17 then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.
18 Wherefore comfort one another with these words.
