“ I started working at Heath Engineering in January of 1968 and Andy was my first supervisor. I really enjoyed working for him and we both went on to share many years with the company in various capacities. I remember that he was one of the few that went up to Mountain Park the evening before our company picnics to reserve a spot. Lots of stories about what they did up there that evening and they always looked the worst for wear the next day. Heard that was one of the reasons for his nickname "suds". RIP Andy!
