“Wow I'm so torn up apart inside just now hearing about this. I've just learned about your about your passing. I'm so broken inside right now. You were the best friend I could of ever asked for. You were so loving and caring. The world has long an amazing person and heaven gained an angel. I'm gonna always cherish the motorycle rides and the tattooing parties we used to do on each other. I will always love ya and will always miss you. We will see each other again. Love ya homie

“I have so many wonderful memories of Brittany Bush, I have known her before my granddaughter was born Natalie And there is not one thing that I can say bad about her and any point. She was a wonderful, caring, loving individual a wife in a mother to her children. It's been so heartbreaking not talking to her are getting a phone call from her. She was more to me then just my granddaughters mother but like a daughter to me. There's not a day that don't go by and I don't think about her and her talks and being around each other when she would come to Texas to visit her and my granddaughter. I love and miss her so much and it's only good bye for now 💜 I know we will see each other again someday. Natalie will always know how wonderful her mother was and still is in heaven. We love and miss you so much and you will never be forgotten I promise you that.

“ I did not personally know Brittany, but from hearing others talk about her, she was a very sweet and lovely person. She loved her daughter and Jay. She was a hard worker, and cared for others. Fly high Britt. Spread your wings.
