“ I met Chris at Iowa State as we were both working towards a degree in Environmental Science. I didn't stay in touch with him but just heard the news and wanted to share my condolences. It's so sad to know that someone passed away so young before they were able to live a full life. I can't imagine how hard this has been but want to let you know that I am thinking of all of you during this difficult time. Chris was a really great guy and I'm happy to have known him.

“ To the family of Chris Jutting, We were so sorry to hear the news of Chris's death from our son, Nathaniel. Chris and Nathaniel played football together for Ames High. They spent many hours lifting together in the weight room. The boys were also shot put throwers on the track team. We enjoyed the time spent with your family at these sport events. We fondly remember Chris's great smile and fun sense of humor. Our entire family mourns his death and wishes our deepest sympathies to all of you. God's Blessings, Rochelle and Roger Ginder

“ Most of you won't know me, probably only Arlene, but I felt the need to send my heartfelt sympathy and condolences to you. I was a youth fellowship leader with Chris at Northminster Presbyterian Church while he was going to ISU. Chris is an outstanding human being, so full of love and life and the willingness to share it with all whose paths crossed his. It is tragic that we have lost such a beautiful, kind and wise person in our lives. Know that God must have had a greater need for Chris at this time than we could understand. God Bless all of you touched by his tragic loss. Please know that many thoughts and prayers are with you. Know that Chris would not want you to be sad, but enjoy and share life to the fullest just as he always did.

“ Our hearts bleed with sorrow at the loss of Chris. We have fond memories of watching him growing up across the street on Glendale. His infectious "cackling" laugh and many antics are all part of the Chris that we knew and loved. We are so proud of the fine young man he grew into and will miss him dearly.

“ Dear Lauren, Jeff, Dee and Kellie, We remember what a bright spirit he was in Northminster Presbyterian Church. His infectious, sometimes mischievous grin, brightened the days of all around him. “ I hope this will provide some comfort to the Jutting family: Each morning when we awake we know that you are gone. And no one knows the heartache as we try to carry on. Our hearts still ache with sadness and many tears still flow. What it meant to lose you, no one will ever know. Our thoughts are always with you, your place no one can fill. In life we loved you dearly, in death we love you still. There will always be a heartache, and often a silent tear. But always a precious memory of the days when you were here. If tears could make a staircase and heartaches make a lane, we'd walk the path to heaven to bring you home again. We hold you close within our hearts and there you will remain. To walk us throughout our lives until we meet again.

“ It is hard to believe that the good Lord would take someone from us with so much more life to live. Chris, Ham to most of his college friends, was larger than life. Ham and I have known each other since the first day of school at Iowa State. We were instantly friends with similar interests in the outdoors, BBQ, ISU football, and music. My heart goes out to all his family for their loss. Ham, you will be forever missed.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear of about the sudden passing of Chris. I had the pleasure of working with Chris on many occasions. He always had a positive attitude and was so fun to be around. Chris was very friendly and was always happy to share his latest homebrewing successes. When travel was necessary for work, Chris helped to fill the time with laughter. I remember after a particularly long day in the field, near my home town, my sister and her son came over to the hotel to swim. Chris eagerly taught my young nephew how to do cannonballs in the pool. They had a competition going on who could make the biggest splash. Chris spoke of his wife Lauren often and was very excited about the purchase of their home. Jutting family, you are in my thoughts and prayers during this difficult time. Chris will be greatly missed.
