His willingness to give of himself in attempt to give others a better life showed his compassion. Many will miss such an honorable person. May you both find strength as you move through the next stages in life. God bless you. Love always, Justin*

This note is very late as I was unaware of Lloyd's passing. He greatly helped our 11 year old son, and would have been proud to know that our son graduated from a technical college, served in the military for 10 years, and now works in the healthcare system.
