“ Maria was such a big part of our family. From the after school snacks she provided my mother Elsie Brown when she was young, to the piroshki making sessions we enjoyed when I was growing up, Maria was always there for us. She kept us at her house the night my Grandmother Gladys Kondro died on the sidewalk outside her house after a visit. Maria was a loving and giving person that shaped my early life. I'm sorry I didn't know sooner that she had passed away. I would have certainly attended the services. I will always cherish my memories of Maria.
