Miller Otto Ness

Beloved son of Tizóc and Aylisha Ness

September 12, 2025 – September 16, 2025

With hearts overflowing in sorrow, we announce the passing of our dear son, Miller Otto Ness, who was born on September 12, 2025, at 6:53 a.m. and entered into the arms of Jesus on September 16, 2025, at 10:25 p.m. He weighed 10 pounds, 15 ounces.

During labor, Miller suffered severe shoulder dystocia, leading to his birth without a heartbeat or a breath in his lungs. After significant effort, he was resuscitated, but was found to have profound hypoxic brain injury involving his entire brain and part of his brainstem.

For five precious days, his parents cherished every moment with him. When every effort to preserve his life had been exhausted, they were given the most treasured gift of holding and cuddling their sweet boy as he peacefully entered heaven.

Miller's life and legacy will continue on, as his heart valves were donated to save the life of another infant. Even in his passing, he gave the greatest gift of all — the gift of life.

Miller is deeply loved and will be forever missed by his parents, Tizóc and Aylisha Ness. There are not words to express the depth of their pain. They are forever grateful for the gift of Miller's life and the joy he brought in his short time on earth.

“ You were blessed with a beautiful little boy. ☐ And I was blessed to have a small interaction with him. Thank you for that. ❤️ So grateful for your few days with him and the life he gave another little one. Heaven holds an even sweeter anticipation with little Miller there. May God hold you tightly in His ever strong arms. Cling close to Him during this difficult season. We love you so much. ❤️
