

Opal Foxworthy

August 19, 1921 - September 3, 2015

Opal Foxworthy passed away peacefully on September 3, 2015. She was 94 years old. She was predeceased by her husband, Joseph Foxworthy, and is survived by her three children, Karren Vitt, Ron Foxworthy, and Connie Emery. She is also survived by her grandchildren, Allen and Brian Vitt, Lisa Daugherty and Jaime Davis, Ashley and Ryan Emery, and by her great grandchildren, Ethan, Brooke and Luke Vitt, Keegan and Kyleigh Daugherty, and Courtney and Justin Davis.

Opal served her country during WWII by building aircraft engines in California. She served her community of Fort Collins, Colorado by being a teacher's aide until her retirement, and then continued serving her neighborhood by pursuing her passion of gardening, creating an oasis of beauty for all to see.

Services to celebrate her life will be held on October 24, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. at the Bohlender Funeral Chapel in Fort Collins, Colorado. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be sent in her honor to the Villas at Sunny Acres Foundation.

“ I have fond memories of Opal and Joe beginning as an across-the street-neighbor in Lamar when I was a child; again in Boulder as a teenager; and a couple of visits in Fort Collins with my parents, Olive and Jack Francisco, after my husband and I moved there. I don't remember if they were part of the "pinochle crowd" in Lamar, but the connection with them through the folks was an enduring one. I'm grateful for her long productive life and the above connection.

“ Even though I hadn't seen Opal since she left Irish Elementary, but we often talked on the phone. Opal took good care of herself, she would walk to work at times just to get her exercise. She would pack a healthy lunch. Wow! 94 I knew she would live a long life, she took good care of herself. Opal worked very hard for the school district. RIP Opal.
