“ I am so sad to hear of Scott passing. He was a fighter with the cancer and a true friend to everyone. I met Scott in the oncology infusion center and from day one he talked about his grandchildren and always asked me how mine were doing. Scott always made me smile and seeing his Christmas display was truely amazing. Scott you will be missed by many of us and will always be remembered for your kind words and many smiles.

“ Scott was one of a kind and always had a good story. He was always kind enough to ask about my little ones and then he would smile and light up while talking about his grand-daughter. He took the time to bring all of us gifts - in particular a monogrammed diaper organizer and a pink bird house for my girls. He will be missed very much and fondly remembered.

“ Scott always talked about his love for hunting and his grand kids. He seemed like such a big gruff man and in a reality he was a big teddy bear! I will always treasure the gifts he made for me and my children. Scott will be missed by so many. I pray you find comfort through these tough days.

“ I recently heard from Scott and the message was a bright light from my past. I was saddened to hear about his struggles with cancer but his love for family was strong. In my opinion, Scott was a good man You certainly have my condolences.
