“ Virginia has fought the good fight, finished the race, and kept the faith! Now is her time to be with her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and join her parents and Eileen in eternal life. None of us knows what the path of our life will be when we are just kids growing up with our parents and siblings. Hers was a path of bright promise in a worldly sense, when she went off to study at CSU until her medical injury. Despite many struggles which she survived and endured, she seemed to always bounce back to a positive and upbeat disposition. She took things over which she had no control in her personal life, her living arrangements, and the loss of her parents and Eileen in stride, and received great love, care, and attention from her siblings and those who cared for her. Always a beautiful smile and hair, and intense and attentive eyes...

May all the family be comforted in their loss by their faith and fond memories. May each and all of you experience the peace of the Lord which Virginia now enjoys.

*Hugs and Prayers,
Rose, Terry, & Jennifer  Russell*

“ Virginia has a special place in heaven, we can just see her now with Eileen hugging and carrying on as sisters do, with your mom and Dad. We will miss her sweet smile, she is the strongest woman I know, her disposition was amazing. Virginia was the light of all our lives, I will always remember even though she couldn't talk, she would shake her head, she knew everything that was going on and understood, and I loved to make her laugh. We loved kidding with her. We will miss her, but we know she no longer suffers, and she is made whole again. Linda, you have been an amazing sister, always there for her, you were her lifeline, you taught us all what love for a sister truly looks like. We are all here for you and all the family as you grieve the loss of Virginia. We loved Virginia!
