Wallace M. Wagner of Thornton, Colorado died Sunday November 3rd, 2024. He was 84 years old. He grew up in Fort Collins, Colorado and joined the Navy after high school. After serving 4 years honorably he then met and married his wife Betty A. Wagner who preceded him in death. They were married August 11th, 1967.

“ I'm Betty's cousin so I was aware of Betty and Wally's adventures. My favorite memory was when Wally retired and Betty threw a party at their house. She arranged for strip-o-gram of sort, that was very entertaining and the life of the party. I'll never forget how my mom and Alma acted during the event and laughed my head off. They were almost as fun to watch as the girl. We talked about that for years. Wally always seemed like a great guy and they were perfect for each other. RIP Wally and my condolences to the family.
