“ I was very saddened when I heard through a friend of Dr. Melvin's passing. He was a dear mentor and colleague of mine when I was a young faculty member at Colorado State University. I was blessed by having had the opportunity to work and learn from such a wonderful person. I am so sorry for your loss. Phil Bigelow The University of Waterloo

“ Dr. Melvin was, without exception, my most memorable and certainly my most favorite professor of graduate school. Daily, he defined the word "gentleman" through his intellectual curiosity, modesty in the face of his wealth of accomplishments, enthusiasm for teaching and genuine concern for his students. I am fortunate for having had the opportunity to have known him. Thank you Dr. Melvin. Steve

“ Dr. Melvin was was my adviser, my mentor, and most importantly, my friend. I have never known a man of such accomplishments with so little pretense. If all of us were so lucky to know such an individual, we would count our selves most fortunate. Dr. W. You will be remembered forever by the tracks you leave behind. They are are large and extensive. Go in peace my good friend. Del
