“ I was honored to have met Bill several years ago as i was a good friend of his daughter Rebecca. Bill and i were fast friends. We both had a love for the great outdoors and hunting and fishing. Also we both loved watching old westerns. We would talk about the old western stars. Clint Eastwood, John Wayne, Chuck Conners, James Arness. The conversation would always end with us talking about family. Family was important to Bill. Every time he saw me he would always tell me about how proud he was of Rebecca and what a good daughter she was. I will miss our talks and everytime i see a western on TV i will remember Bill and wish i could have had one more conversation with a great man. .
